

Season – 12 September – 3 October

“Does art imitate life or does life imitate art?”

Ben Elton's 'Popcorn' is a fast, funny, and stylish exploration into the power of the media and society's refusal to take responsibility for its actions. Oscar winner Bruce Delamitri is a director of ultra-violent but stylish movies. The morning after his big win should be rife with celebration and sex. Unfortunately for Bruce and his family, the notorious Mall Murderers have different plans. Plans that will have consequences reaching far beyond any of Bruce's wildest dreams. Or worst nightmares.

Contains coarse language, sexual references and drug use.

Gala opening Saturday 12 September at 8pm – black tie / posh frock – red carpet – champagne on arrival (add extra $3 to ticket price on opening night for supper)

Performances – 18, 19, 20, 25, 26, 27 September and 2, 3 October (no performance Sunday 13 September)

Licensed Bar available – right next to the Chelmer Railway Station
